"The public must see that we are not depending on Lexow witnesses entirely," said Mr. Wellman. "No legal proof of guilt was given before the Lexow Committee, if you eliminate the hearsay testimony. The Police Board must depend on legal testimony only, and we have succeeded thus far in corroborating the Lexow accusing witnesses in every case tried, and all the talk about reinstating the broken captains by the courts is rot."

She said that she was an inmate of volff's discrderly house, 150 Allen street, luring Capt. Devery's command of the cleventh Precinct. She saw Ward Man ilennon there. A special meeting of the Board of League was held to-day at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The Board consists of President Nick Young, of the League; A. H. Soden, of the Boston Baseball Club, and C. H. Byrne, of the trooklyn Club.

The meeting was called at the recharges President P. H. Powers, of the duct, prejudicial to the National game by tampering with players of the Penn League, inasmuch as he Powers, had induced the Scranton and Allentown teams to withdraw from the Pennsylvania League and join the East-

Mr. Diddlebock argued that President Powers had violated section 5, article 13 of the National Agreement, and had never made an application to the National Board for the transfer of the Scranton and Allentown teams to the Eastern League. Mr. Diddlebock further said that, although the Scrantons had made a bluff at disbanding before they joined the Eastern League the Allentowns never made any pretense of disbanding, but simply flopped over to the other League, under the ten days' clause, claims the proprietorship of the entire Allentown Club, including the irrepressible "Kel" himself.

President Powers replied that inasmuch as the Scrantons and Allentowns had withdrawn from the Pennsylvania League and were no longer members of it, the Eastern League had a right to accept their cash offers for franchises in the Eastern League, and the Eastern League. The clubs had disbanded, he said, and left the Pennsylvania League. Therefore they were eligible for admission into the Eastern League. After discussion the Board decided that the Scranton Club, having complied with the Scranton Club, having compled with the Scranton Club, having completely in the Eastern League.

"It appears" the report says, "that the Allentown Club disbanded on Aug. 16, but no evidence being submitted to this Board that such club released any of its players prior to such disbandment, it is the opinion of the Board that under the provisions of article 13 of the National agreement, the services of all players under contract to the Allentown Club on Aug. 16 are subject to the acceptance of the Pennsylvania State League for a period of ten days from the date of disbandment."

The decision closes with a hard rap at President Powers's knuckles, as follows:

Immediately after the reading of the journal in the Senate, Mr. Harris reported the amended Sugar Tariff bill. There were several inquiries as to what had become of the amendments offered by Senators. Mr. Harris said it was not usual to report back amendments which had been rejected in committee.

Mr. Allison gave it as his opinion that the action of the Senate last Saturday, when the vote on Mr. Manderson's amendment way 21 to 30, and only failed of action from the absence of a quorum, should be regarded as an instruction to the Committee to report this amendment favorably to the Senate.

The Board ordered that in the event of the Pennsylvania State League accepting the services of such players and claiming them, it must within ten days tender to each and every player a contract at a compensation not less than he is now receiving.

Secretary Diddlebock at once put in a claim for the entire team. He will furnish them with contracts within tendays.

The Howland officials and Secretary Ross, of the spinners union, are to have a conference to-day, and it is hoped that an understanding will be reached. The session was so stormy that Sovereign is said to have railed in a police officer to clear the hall. Not succeeding in this, it is asserted that the opposition forcibly ejected Sovereign, while his followers took precipitous leave. Sovereign denies the forcible ejection story.

working for the Pullmon Company at wages upon which they could not live. I found that salaries had been cut time and again until skilled mechanics were working their lives away for wages not sufficient for a common laborer; that the town of Pullman, with its shops. It is houses and its stores was so schemed that every penny the workingman made found its way back into the Company's coffers. I found the workingmen of Pullman in a pitible condition, and destermined to do all in my power as President of the American Railway Union, to improve their condition. The strike followed, ordered by the men themselves. Then came the boycott, ordered by duly elected delegates to our Convention, and then followed the rail-road strikes, ordered by the various local unions, each of whom had grievances of its own.

Mr. Deba then told of the strike, his account differing but little from that of the other American Railway Union efficiency who had preceded him on the witness stand. He said the Pullman strike was the prime cause of the railroad grievances of their own. The General Managers' Association had been organnized with the avowed intention of giving assistance to railroads in labor troubles. The evident aim was to drive organized labor from existence.

No sooner had this Association been formed than a systematic reduction of railroad wages all over the country began. The cuts were made on one road at a time and in one department at a time, but the systematic regularity with which they appeared was sufficiently significant. The men were ready to strike, and felt they had cause. But the trouble would not have come when it did had it not been for the Pullman matter.

"The time was unpropitious," said Mr. Debs. "Business was depressed and money was scarce. I did not order the strikes. I had not the power. The west strikes. In ad not the power. Bandit and Star Actress were scared
